

Friday the 13th Launch: Terrifyingly Good Value!

Six weeks ago, we set an ambitious goal: launch our brand-new website and service by Friday the 13th, March 2026.

It was a bold target — some might even call it downright scary. But with serious cash invested, blood, sweat, and tears poured in, a few heated clashes with the tech team, endless early mornings, and late-night grinds... here we are.

On Friday the 13th — unlucky for some, but terrifyingly lucky for you — the state-of-the-art <https://www.Betting4Profits.co.uk> is officially live!

We've slashed the Early Bird prices to ridiculously frighteningly low levels as our way of rewarding the early supporters who join us on this launch day.

I'm absolutely raring to go, ready to deliver daily BTTS ACCA bets, high value single bets, deep research edges, and serious profit potential straight to our members. This is a scary proposition... but only for the bookies. For you? It's the kind of value that sends shivers of excitement down your spine. 🤩

From the Grave to Glory: The Resurrection of a Betting Legacy 🏴‍☠️

Back in 2009, when I first opened this account, I ran a subscription-based sports betting advisory service charging £30 per month (£360 per year). For six solid years, it delivered football, darts, and golf picks that generated some seriously impressive returns for my clients.

Life got busy with other business ventures, so I paused the service. For the past decade, I've focused purely on my own personal betting and trading — quietly honing edges behind the scenes. But like Lazarus rising from the dead, the service is back... and it's resurrected on the perfect day: Friday the 13th, March 13, 2026!

Unlucky for some? Maybe.

Terrifyingly lucky for you? Absolutely. The scariest part? Back in 2009, clients paid £360 annually. Today — 17 years later — our Early Bird offers start at just £50 a year for Bronze. That's only 13.89% of the original price. Inflation? Bookies' margins? Forget it. We're serving up better value at a fraction of what it cost back then.

And this resurrection comes with serious upgrades:

- My son, who was just nine years old when the original service ran, is now a sharp-minded 25-year-old powerhouse working alongside me. The "Wiley old timer" has a fresh, data-hungry partner in crime — making our research faster, deeper, and even more profitable.
- We're building AI-assisted tools exclusively for members.
- We're collaborating hand-in-hand with cutting-edge AI start-ups that are upgrading our tools and data feeds almost daily. The pace is relentless — we can barely keep up with the improvements!

This isn't just a comeback. It's a terrifyingly upgraded proposition for serious punters: more firepower, smarter edges, and prices so low they'll send chills down the bookies' spines. The grave is empty. The profits are rising.

Join us before these Early Bird spots vanish like ghosts at dawn. 🤖
